Borrowing Money.

Borrowing money upon the installment plan is attended with these advantages: The loan can be repaid in small monthly amounts which include the interest and part of the principal, so that by the expiration of the term it can be paid without any great inconvenience to the borrower; the rate of interest is generally lower; the expenses of obtaining the money are not so great as in ordinary loans; and if it is borrowed upon good paying property then it often happens that the rents will meet the monthly installments and in time pay off the debt.

For further and other particulars enquire of Agent for Savings and Loan Society, 1215 Main Street, 1215 Main Street.

Arrival.

Mr. John Archibald has arrived and is prepared to loan money at 1 percent, per month, in sums of $3,000 to $20,000. Applications will be received at the office of W. H. J. Brooks, corner Spring and Temple streets, Allen's building, upstairs.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WM. H. WILLIAMS, LAND AGENT, CONVEYANCE AND COPIST. Room 25 Temple Block, Los Angeles. Houses let, loans and insurance negotiated and bills collected.

Los Angeles Herald

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1875.

We are promised more of that delectable stuff such as has been oozing from the BEECHER-TILTON scandal during the past hundred and ten days. BOWEN says there is a skeleton in the closet that has not yet been unveiled, and he says he intends to give us a glimpse of it as soon as the present trial is over.

THE Express of last evening contains an advertisement marked "HERALD COPY," which we decline to insert in the columns of the HERALD as an advertisement. In the editorial columns of the HERALD of this morning will be found the same advertisement more inextensive. It may not be possible that the people of this city in giving a large sum of money to the Los Angeles and Independent Railroad have warned a viper which is now striking at their life, but it has that appearance, and until the purpose of Senator JONES is made more clear to us we shall certainly not insert an advertisement which points to the injury of the city in which we live.

The wall which Republicans are sending up over the work of their State Convention is rather affecting. It was simply decapitating the party to place PHELPS on the head of the ticket. It was so direct an insult to the thousands of honest Republicans in the State, that they cannot and will not submit to it. In this city and county dozens of old, staunch and true Republicans openly avow their determination not to support PHELPS. In San Francisco the defection is very great. The party journals are paralyzed. The Alta and Chronicle publish the proceedings of the Convention, but make no comments on the fitness of the candidates. The Bulletin and Call are hopeful that the scampers from the Republican party will be caught in the "Reformers' net," and predict that in the race PHELPS and the ticket he heads will be distanced. PACHECO would have made a strong fight, but he is obnoxious to SARGENT and GORHAM, and these worthies controlled the Convention. It is a clear case of hari-kari.

How it is.

After carefully reading a long article in the New York Herald on the New Hampshire muddle, we are impressed with the notion that we fully understand the subject. In New Hampshire a candidate to be elected must receive a majority of all the votes cast. Thus, though SMITH receives 14,000 votes, JONES 13,000 and THOMPSON 2,000, SMITH is no more elected than if he had not been a candidate. The law understood, and this part of the muddle becomes clearer than mud—it is plain sailing. But there is another New Hampshire law, which requires that the full and exact name—accepting the initial letter of the middle name as correct—shall be fully and correctly printed. Now, JOHN PRIEST, a Democrat, and NATHANIEL MERRILL, a Republican, and JOSHUA C. MERRILL, a Prohibitionist, were candidates in the Second Senatorial District. PRIEST received more votes than either of the other two, but not a majority of all the votes cast. Under the first law alluded to he was defeated, but the second let him in; for some of the ballots cast for NATHANIEL HEAD read "NATT." HEAD. Had the election officers thrown these "NATT." HEAD ballots out, as clearly, under the law, they should have done, the matter would have been settled in the Second District; but they did not, and the Governor and the Council did, thus giving PRIEST a majority of the legal votes cast. The Republicans claimed, first, that the "NATT." HEAD votes should be counted, and second, that the Governor and Council had no right to canvass the returns. In the first claim they were wrong; in the second, right—for, as the law gives each body the right to judge of the qualifications of its members, it was the Senate that should have decided the contest between PRIEST and HEAD. This point, though well taken, amounts to nothing in the end, as the Senate, operating under the same law, would have reached the same result. The appeal of the Republicans to the Courts is also wrong, because the law makes each branch of the Legislature the judge of who has the right to seats therein. The Courts have no jurisdiction in the case. There is one other issue, on the length of time one must reside in the State to become eligible to a seat in the Senate, but the law is equally clear on this point. These are the primary points in the New Hampshire muddle.

Come and See for Yourself.

We are beginning to weary of the thousand and one stories that come back to us from the East detracting California. There is no limit to lying. A man who falls into the habit may by constant repetition come to regard as fact what he once knew to be false, and we have no doubt something of this kind is the case with the gentlemanly journalists who are now laboring to convince their readers that California is a desert, in which only horned toads and abominable sheep are able to eke out an existence. It is true that though not one-half of California's arable land is under cultivation she exports more wheat in proportion to her population than any other State in the Union. It is also probably true that within the next ten years she will export three times as much of this cereal as she does now. It is true that California now produces more wool than any other State in the Union. It is true that in proportion to her age California produces more of the staple articles of life than any other State in the Union, and it is true that California is annually producing millions of dollars of the precious metals and will continue to produce them for ages yet to come, yet these Eastern people have said she is fit for nothing, and it is but reasonable to suppose that they have repeated their story so often that they believe it true. Let them keep on. Slander will not hurt a Christian and detracting will not injure a country that only needs to be seen to be appreciated. People will come here, and that is all we ask. Don't take the grasshopper editor's fiction for fact. Come and see for yourselves.

The Coming City.

The HERALD is not a gratuitous advertising sheet. It has conscientious scruples about advertising any enterprise for nothing, but the following, which we find in the Chronicle of the 12th inst., is of such vital importance to the people of Los Angeles that we give it a place in our editorial columns:

THE COMING CITY.

THE FAR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA has lacked a commercial city. Los Angeles has, perhaps more nearly than any other place, attempted to supply this want, but Los Angeles has never been quite able to do so. Pasadena's harbor is defective as almost to be worthless. The United States Government has expended over half a million dollars on San Pedro Bay without any apparent beneficial result, and freight and passenger rates are charged as to hell, hence carried several miles up a narrow, shallow, muddy creek, and finally dumped in a swamp, twenty-six miles by rail from Los Angeles.

Twenty miles north of San Pedro and directly west of Los Angeles, from which it is but fourteen miles distant, lies the beautiful bay of Santa Monica. This harbor is much better than San Pedro, and during the present gale, while the steamer was unable to discharge its cargo, the Santa Monica, a schooner, carried her cargo on to San Diego, a schooner unloaded at Santa Monica lumber for the construction of the wharf at this point. This wharf is two thousand feet in length and reaches a point where there is thirty feet of water at low tide. From the wharf to Los Angeles the rail-bed of the proposed railroad is graded; the ties are contracted for and enough iron has been purchased and laid out to construct the road a distance of forty miles. The grading through the Santa Monica mountains, and means have been secured to construct the road to Independence within a few months.

That Santa Monica is to be the future city of Southern California will be readily conceded after an examination of its many advantages. There is not to be found on the Pacific Coast, and perhaps not the Atlantic, such another site for a watering place. For ten miles there is a hard, beautiful beach, and the ocean beach and the arable land, the fertile valley comes to the very edge of the sea, and from a height of forty feet look down on the water.

But it is as a commercial city that Santa Monica has its greatest expectations. When the railroad to Independence shall have been completed, and the Santa Monica line achieved by January next—it will be within fifty miles of the surveyed route of the Texas Pacific Railroad. That there will be two hundred miles from San Diego. The construction of fifty miles of road would, therefore, connect Santa Monica with San Diego, a terminus to Santa Monica, where swift and elegant steamers, running in twenty-four hours to San Francisco, over stormy seas, will convey passengers more pleasantly and expeditiously than by any other route to Independence will, at some day, not very remote, be connected with the Utah, Southern and Central Roads, and the homes of Santa Monica the terminus of two overland roads and giving to her merchant a free outlet to the rich trade of Panamint, Cerro Gordo, Coso and the mining districts of Inyo, Kern and San Bernardino counties. That there will be a city of 25,000 people at Santa Monica within three years and within ten years, is, when the wonderful mineral and agricultural capabilities of the surrounding country are considered, and the homes of Santa Monica will be a place of residence not elsewhere to be offered. A gentle southern breeze, the beach gives a natural drainage and avoids the heavy charge for grading streets. Water in abundance can be brought through pipes from copious springs only two miles away; and should these prove insufficient, the Santa Monica mountains can be "tapped" of the streams which run through their canyons. In the meantime an abundance of water can be obtained by means of ordinary wells at a depth of thirty feet. The soil of all the valleys is productive, and the homes of Santa Monica will be a place of residence not elsewhere to be offered.

The site of the proposed city is on the ranch of Santa Monica, containing 36,000 acres. This ranch has of late years been used as a sheep pasture but the soil is very rich and any kind of crops can be grown without irrigation, as the proximity to sea supplies all necessary moisture. It is the intention of the proprietors to divide the land about the city into two and forty-acre tracts and dispose of them to actual settlers for orange orchards.

The Bulletin, Call and Post of the same date contain advertisements similar to the above. The reference to the failure of Los Angeles to become the great commercial city of Southern California and the certainty that Santa Monica will fill that want, together with the terrible strictures on Wilmington harbor, will be read with interest by the people who have devoted the best part of their lives to building up Los Angeles and have all their hard earnings invested in property here.

San Francisco Items.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13th.—The Deputy Sheriff, James Allen and his posse, who arrested Jack Cotton and Mrs. Norton, the supposed murderers of the latter's husband, at Kincon, in Santa Barbara county, at Waverly, Nevada, on the 6th inst., arrived last evening. The prisoners were brought to this city. The woman was lodged in the county jail and Cotton at the city prison, where he made a long statement. His story in substance is that Mrs. Norton contracted with two men named Dutch Louis and Eugene to perform the murder, agreeing to give them $160 for the job. This was subsequently paid to them at Los Angeles, when Cotton and Mrs. Norton went there after the murder. Cotton says he did not expect to be hanged for fear of being suspected himself. The movements of the couple after the murder he gave in accordance with the published statements. The prisoners will be taken to Santa Barbara to-day.

Advices from various parts of the State report heavy rains, slight before last and yesterday in many localities. Considerable damage to the crops is reported in Sutter county. About one-half the grain crop has been harvested, and it is thought to have suffered a great deal in the stacks and standing grain is badly injured.

The Communists.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Communists and Workingmen held a meeting here to-day. Inflammatory speeches were made advising armed resistance to the encroachments of employers. Resolutions of sympathy with the striking coal miners of Pennsylvania were adopted.

Wool Market.

Boston, June 12.—There is no material change in the wool market. Transactions in California wool embrace 721,000 lbs. of fine, medium and coarse, good and choice lots of Spring, 30c@35c.

The Whiskey Ring.

St. Louis, June 13th.—Indictments have been found against five more members of the whiskey ring. The report that the Government had compromised with the members of the ring is denied.

Remarkable Modesty.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13th.—A number of leading citizens have tendered John C. New, recently appointed U. S. Treasurer, a public dinner. He declines the compliment, as his ability to fulfill the duties of the position is yet untried.

Railway Accident—Blaine.

NEW YORK, June 13th.—The Boston express train jumped the track six miles above the city. Several passengers were severely injured. Vice-President Wilson was on board but is unhurt. Speaker Blaine received injuries which will confine him to bed for a day or two.

Foreign News.

BERLIN, June 13.—The officers of the American Squadrons received a most cordial welcome from the Prince Imperial and the Chief of the Admiralty.

ATHENS, June 13.—The reports that the abdication of the King is imminent and that several men of war have arrived in Greek waters are untrue.

LONDON, June 14.—A special from Rome says that a Ministerial crisis is imminent on account of the bill for the suppression of Brigandage. Much excitement prevails.

Several bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the Schiller. They are greatly disfigured.

SANTA BARBARA ITEMS.

[From the Press, 12th]

At the 10 o'clock Mass to-morrow (Sunday) a sermon, on the Gospel of the day, will be preached by the Rev. Charles Flanagan, Cathedral, Los Angeles. He is to open a Mission on Sunday the 20th inst., to continue until the following Sunday. During the Mission the faithful are expected to approach the sacraments in order to obtain the graces annexed to the time of Jubilee.

From Frank Walker, Esq., one of the contractors for laying the track, we learn that about fifty tons of T rail iron will arrive on the Constantine, and that work will be commenced as soon as the street is in proper condition. The cars are being manufactured in San Francisco, and will be finished by the time the track is laid.

Only about half a dozen squirrel tails have been brought in yet, to be forwarded to the brush makers in the East. It is certainly surprising that the farmers manifest so little interest in this matter, for it is quite likely that an important industry may spring up in the manufacture of a costly brush from the long hair in the squirrel tails.

[From the Republic, 11th inst.]

The Italian Opera Troupe which was here ten days ago will return to this place in about three weeks with a large addition to their repertoire of operas. Al Ventura they had a large house and done well pecuniarily. They played at Los Angeles on Friday and Saturday of last week to good houses, and will remain there till they return here. They can be looked for here about the 4th of next month, and our music-loving citizens can anticipate several pleasant evenings with them.
